

Citation Styles

What is Citation Styles?

- A citation style is a set of guidelines on how to cite sources in your academic writing. You always need a citation whenever you quote, paraphrase, or summarize a source to avoid plagiarism. How you present these citations depends on the style you follow.
- Different styles are set by different universities, academic associations, and publishers, often published in an official handbook with in-depth instructions and examples.

- There are many different citation styles, but they typically use one of three basic approaches:

1. Parenthetical citations
2. Numerical citations

- APA
- Harvard
